

Sports Physical Consent for Parents

Pre-participation physical exams cannot predict or guarantee that your child will be risk free while participating in a sport. As you might expect, there is a greater chance of injury in contact and collision sports. Additionally, routine sport physicals do not reveal some cardiac anomalies. Cardiac conditions may exist despite normal screening and examination findings. Participating in a sport may cause symptoms of undiagnosed conditions to occur and may even cause a serious health problem, including sudden death.

I understand that there are potential dangers of sports participation including injury cardiac complications and other health problems that are previously undiagnosed.

I have read and understand the above stateme	ents.
